RECOGNITION OF RETIRING FACULTY

GRAHAM SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

DR. MARY MEISENHELTER earned a Bachelor's degree in Psychology from York College in 1980; she began her teaching career five years later and remained at her alma mater until her retirement in 2020.

Mary earned a Master's degree in Industrial/Organizational Psychology, an MBA in Human Resources, and a Doctorate in Human Systems in Organizations from George Washington University in 1996. She taught numerous undergraduate and graduate courses at York College, including Principles of Management, Labor Relations, Human Resource Management and Organizational Dynamics.

Mary chaired the Business Department—the first woman to do so—for 15 years. She led the Department to its initial Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP) accreditation and then reaccreditation eight years later. She also directed the MBA program and served as coordinator of the Management program. She was the first woman to earn the rank of Full Professor in the Business Department.

Mary served on and chaired many Academic Senate committees. In addition, she was on the steering committee of the Young Women's Leadership Conference for 7th graders and co-created SIFE (Students in Free Enterprise) with her husband and longtime faculty member Chris Meisenhelter '80. She was also the recipient of numerous awards, including the York College Alumni Association's Leadership & Professional Service Award, and a longtime member of the American Association of University Professors.

Mary was a member of several professional organizations, held leadership positions in two academic organizations, and presented over 20 papers at academic conferences.

YORK COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA

York College of Pennsylvania is an independent, comprehensive, private college offering majors in the arts and sciences as well as professionally oriented programs of study. York is nationally recognized for its high-quality academic programs, friendly campus atmosphere, and affordable cost. Emphasis is placed upon a superior teaching faculty, the majority of whom hold doctorates. More than four thousand undergraduate students and three hundred graduate students represent some thirty-two states and thirty-six foreign countries. York offers over seventy undergraduate majors in the arts and sciences and in professional fields as well as master's programs in business, music, communication, public policy, education and nursing and a doctoral program in nursing.

The history of York College is long and varied. In 1787, the York Academy was formed. It merged in 1929 with the York Collegiate Institute, which was founded in 1873. The York Collegiate Institute became York Junior College in 1941 and, in 1968, York College of Pennsylvania.
