RECOGNITION OF RETIRING FACULTY

SCHOOL OF NURSING AND HEALTH PROFESSIONS

DR. BRIGITTE HAAGEN retires from the School of Nursing and Health Professions, Stabler Department of Nursing, where she has been a full-time faculty member since 2004. She earned a BSN from Florida State University, an MSN (Adult-Psychiatric Clinical Nurse Specialist) from Boston University, and a PhD (Nursing Science) from Widener University. Prior to joining the Nursing program, Dr. Haagen was in private practice for many years. She has taught at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, and was the course coordinator for the undergraduate Nursing program's psychiatric/mental health nursing course from 2004-2016. She is a member of several professional organizations, including the American Psychiatric Nurses Association, the American Psychosocial Oncology Society, and Sigma Theta Tau International Society of Nursing. Dr. Haagen has served on several college and departmental committees, including Promotion and Tenure, where she served as committee chair. She has also served as an invited reviewer for the Journal of Psychosocial Nursing and Health Services, a monthly peer-reviewed publication for mental health nurses. Passionate about creating a positive learning experience for psychiatric mental health nursing, Dr. Haagen has advocated having the course at a high level to enhance student learning and improve the clinical experience. It will most be remembered that even during the most stressful times, she always had a smile and a kind soft approach.

DR. MARGARET MARINO retires from the School of Nursing and Health Professions, Stabler Department of Nursing, where she has been a full-time faculty member since 2009. She earned a BSN from D'Youville College, an MSN (Psychiatric Mental Health) from SUNY Buffalo, and a PhD (Nursing Science) from Widener University. Dr. Marino taught at the undergraduate level, and has been the course coordinator for the undergraduate psychiatric/mental health course since fall 2016. Dr. Marino was in private practice for many years, specializing in treating adolescents, particularly those with eating disorders. She is a member of numerous professional organizations, including the American Psychiatric Nurses Association, where she has served on their scholarship committee; Eastern Nurses Research Society; International Association for Human Caring; Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing; and the Pennsylvania Psychiatric Nurses Association. Dr. Marino has served on many college and departmental committees. She most recently chaired the Nursing Scholastic Standards Committee and made many valuable contributions to the program in clarifying departmental policies. Passionate about her family, she is looking forward to spending more time with them in retirement. Dr. Marino will be most remembered for her caring attitude toward colleagues and students.

GRAHAM SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

DR. KEN SLAYSMAN received his PhD in economics from The Pennsylvania State University and joined York College in 1997 after spending nine years working with the Pennsylvania Department of Community and Economic Development in a variety of roles. Dr. Slaysman brought those experiences to his classes through simulations, problem-based learning exercises, improv training for better connectivity and reaction in speaking situations, and the integration of the Poverty Simulation for all micro economics classes. While Dr. Slaysman is retiring as a full-time faculty member, he will remain a part of the Graham School of Business by continuing as an adjunct faculty member and running the Poverty Simulation experience.

SCHOOL OF THE ARTS, COMMUNICATION AND GLOBAL STUDIES

DR. JULIE S. AMBERG is retiring from the School of the Arts, Communication and Global Studies. Dr. Amberg received her PhD from Tulane University in 1995 and joined the York College community in fall 1997. A valued instructor and mentor, her classes in literature and gender studies have been popular with both majors and nonmajors. Her well-regarded scholarship includes work in linguistics, literature, and gender studies. She has been a faculty leader, chairing many high-profile committees and working on important revisions to college policies. Among her numerous praiseworthy achievements was her founding and advising of the Women and Gender Studies program and leadership of the campus chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

KINSLEY SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING, SCIENCES AND TECHNOLOGY

DR. KEITH PETERMAN is Professor of Chemistry at York College of Pennsylvania. He serves as a member of the American Chemical Society (ACS) Committee on Environmental Improvement. He has served as a Fulbright Scholar in Germany and in Russia, a National Academy of Sciences Research Scholar in Poland, a Research Fellow at the Naval Research Laboratory in D.C., and as a visiting professor in China and New Zealand. His current pedagogical activities, research, and writing focus on issues related to climate change literacy and education. He is co-organizer of an annual Climate Change Literacy and Education Symposium at the spring ACS National Meeting. Outcomes of these symposia include two recently published books and one book in press. He takes student groups to Costa Rica each year to investigate climate change issues linked to impacts, adaptation, and mitigation. He is a contributing member of the Huffington Post blog team and contributes climate-focused articles for York Daily Record/Sunday News. He participates in the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) Conference of Parties (COP) as an accredited member of the press and coordinates an ACS-sponsored project that sends student ambassadors to represent ACS as UN-accredited "Observers" at the annual COP.

DR. WILLIAM "BILL" KREIGER arrived at York College of Pennsylvania in the early 1980s with a background in Earth Science Education. His undergraduate degree is from Millersville, and he graduated with a Middle School and Senior High School Teaching Certificate in General Science. Bill taught in several York County school systems for five years as he worked on his Master's Degree in geology and petrology of active volcanoes of Iceland and Hawaii. Dr. Kreiger enrolled at the Pennsylvania State University in a nationally recognized program in geology and collaborated with the nation's number one scientist studying carbon dioxide. He was a graduate assistant in the geology laboratories teaching undergraduate students. He is the author of the "The Geology of York County Parks"; "The Carbonates of York and Lancaster Counties" for the National Association of Geological Sciences. Bill was approached by Glenn Dance and Anna Kibblewhite, producers from the British Broadcasting Company, to add his knowledge to several movies they were producing on ice balls from the sky. This resulted in the movies, The Weirdest Weather on Earth and The Most Unusual Weather in the World. These movies have been shown in Great Britain and in the United States on the Weather Channel.

DR. LAURA GARRISON received her BS in mechanical engineering from the University of Texas and her MS in operations research from Stanford University. She then worked for AT&T Bell Laboratories and AT&T Federal Systems before deciding to pursue her PhD in bioengineering at Penn State University in the area of experimental fluid mechanics associated with the artificial heart. After graduating, she worked at Voith Hydro for five years in the area of Computational Fluid Mechanics. For the last seventeen years, she has been an Associate Professor at York College of Pennsylvania, where she teaches thermal sciences, freshman design courses, and computer programming in the Mechanical Engineering program.

YORK COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA

York College of Pennsylvania is an independent, comprehensive, private college offering majors in the arts and sciences as well as professionally oriented programs of study. York is nationally recognized for its high-quality academic programs, friendly campus atmosphere, and affordable cost. Emphasis is placed upon a superior teaching faculty, the majority of whom hold doctorates. More than four thousand undergraduate students and three hundred graduate students represent some thirty-two states and thirty-six foreign countries. York offers over sixty-six undergraduate majors in the arts and sciences and in professional fields as well as master's programs in business, music, communication, public policy, education and nursing and a doctoral program in nursing.

The history of York College is long and varied. In 1787, the York Academy was formed. It merged in 1929 with the York Collegiate Institute, which was founded in 1873. The York Collegiate Institute became York Junior College in 1941 and, in 1968, York College of Pennsylvania.
